REPORT

FOR THE YEAR ENDING APRIL 1, 1895.

Another year has passed quickly away, and we present our report of the state of affairs in our little nook and corner,—our safe and quiet retreat, where the aged, the infirm, and sometimes the storm-beaten find a comfortable refuge. It is indeed a pleasure that we are able to give a homelike shelter to so large a number; and we thank our friends for their continued interest, of which we have numerous evidences. There are fewer changes to report than was the case last year. As we look through the record of past months, there are no very conspicuous occurrences. Our Board has held ten meetings, which have been remarkably enthusiastic, with an average attendance of nineteen members. The interest has been well sustained, every one ready at the call of duty, and hesitating at no sacrifice for the general good. The spirit of loving kindness has been particularly manifest, each one assuming in her turn responsibilities of visiting, advising, and suggesting. The inmates seem to have caught the spirit of harmony which is so marked, and a serene contentment denotes the peaceful condition of the household. Our numbers have increased until all our rooms are occupied, and there are frequent applications for admission to be placed upon a waiting-list. There are now dwelling at the Home twenty-nine inmates, whose ages vary from sixty-five to ninety years, and whose temperaments, infirmities, and characteristics comprise all varieties. We have added to our family five new members,—Miss Clark, Mrs. Gibson, Mrs. Haskins, Mrs. Howe, and Miss Lewis,—and have lost two by death. On the very day of the last annual meeting the funeral of Miss Eliza A. Sargent was held. We were all mourners at her loss; for she was of a kindly, helpful spirit, one who was ever ready to assist those more infirm than herself and whose presence was a blessing. In August Miss Abbie Ireson passed over the river, and entered the portals of the home beyond. She had been with us but a comparatively short time, but was beloved for her gentleness and her meek and quiet spirit. One sad case we have to mention, where the restless mind overcame the bounds of reason, and, after much patient watching, careful nursing, and especial efforts to restore our invalid friend, we were compelled, both by the physician's advice and a consideration of the requirements of the rest of the household, to remove her to a safer and more appropriate abode.

As has been stated in previous years, we receive no children at the Home, but, instead of doing so, extend needed aid to weary mothers struggling to keep together little families, and help over hard places those distressed and almost despairing. We mention with great pleasure that one family of this kind has been graduated, the children having grown into usefulness, and the mother voluntarily relinquishing farther assistance, expressing much gratitude for the timely aid rendered by our fund. This left us at liberty to assist another needy family who receive a certain specified amount every month from our treasury, making two families whom we now have on our list as beneficiaries.

Our friendly physician, Dr. Withington, felt compelled to send in his resignation as medical attendant by reason of the pressure of other cares, and his removal from the vicinity. The vacancy was filled by Dr. John E. Butler, who kindly assumed the position, and to whom we are already indebted for many attentions. Dr. Lawrence has added yet greater obligations to those already acknowledged; and the whole family, managers and inmates, feel thankful for the inestimable blessing of sympathetic, skilful medical advice. Our good Matron, Mrs. Mayberry, still continues patient and reliable, actively assisting with willing heart and hand ; and, though sometimes flesh and strength almost fail through the constant demands made upon them, yet, still faithful and ready, she cheerfully strives to put aside her own preferences and help to bear the burdens of others.

Among the pleasant recollections of the year the annual picnic, to which all the old people are invited by Rev. D. W. Waldron, stands conspicuously bright. It is anticipated with great eagerness for weeks, the weather anxiously observed, and the indications of the signs carefully noted. When the day actually comes, and really proves auspicious, as was the case this year, it makes a very marked event, and is greatly enjoyed by all who are able to attend. It was indeed a happy thought which gives so much delight to so many on the down-hill slope of life's journey.

Rides, drives, and excursions are also interspersed among the pleasant summer days, and break the monotony of the every-day living. July 4 was observed with the usual program, even the firing of crackers being allowed, and the waving of flags quite universal. Thanksgiving with its bounty came here as elsewhere ; and the holiday festivities of Christmas cheer were crowned with what seldom occurs even under the ordinary home roof-tree, a wedding taking place in our attractive parlor, and one of our faithful attendants starting out on her own domestic career.

Many kind friends remember us with frequent substantial testimonials of their generous good will ! Almost daily the Home is the recipient of favors in the way of cake, jellies, fruit, and flowers.

One very much appreciated favor is especially noted, as it brought to us increased domestic comfort. The Roxbury Gas Company gratuitously furnished a large cooking-stove, and also facilities for heating some of the rooms previously insufficiently provided for in the severest cold weather, thus making the feeblest and most delicate of the aged women secure from chill even through the most inclement seasons. For this liberality, as well as for the accommodating spirit in which all the details were adjusted, we give them our hearty thanks.

We would also take this opportunity to gratefully acknowledge the kindness of our numerous friends at the time of our Annual Reception and Sale, which occurred on Memorial Day, May 30. There were five tables: the Home Table, where the old ladies had charge, assisted by the Matron, Mrs. Mayberry, and Mrs. Barton; the Cake Table, managed most efficiently by Mrs. Clapp and Mrs. Plimpton; sweets were liberally dispensed at the Candy Table by Miss Reynolds, with the assistance of Miss Hunneman and Miss Parker; a choice of desirable aprons was offered by Mrs. Hunneman; at the Variety Table, under the care of Mrs. Bird, supported by Mrs. Morse and Mrs. Miles, was found some very dainty embroidery and fancy work. The Café was, as usual, superintended in an able manner by Mrs. Bolster; and here many found a field of usefulness, especially Mrs. William Kittredge and Mrs. Ireson. Mrs. Bolles proved equal to the monotonous duty of cashier for many hours. To the graceful waitresses our thanks are particularly tendered for their patience and unwearied exertions. Mrs. Ward had charge of the decorations, Miss White of the printing, Mrs. Copeland was treasurer, Mrs. Dennison president of the whole affair.

The financial results were as follows:—

Home Table, $108.93; Cake Table, $57.45; Apron, $47.82; Candy Table, $34.28; Variety Table, $44.03; Café, $33.87; donations, subscriptions, etc., making a total of $339.56.

The memories of the day are delightful. It was a great gratification to us all to meet so many benevolent friends, many of them tried and true, and be renewedly assured of their interest in our success. We cordially welcome all friends of the Home for Aged Women to its ever open portals. That it may be truly a home is our desire and our effort; and we hope with the help of our good friends to keep all vacancies filled, and all our family peaceful, cheerful, and contented.

S. ELIZABETH BIRD,

Secretary.

In Memoriam.

The Managers of the Roxbury Home for Children and Aged Women have learned with regret of the death of Miss Anna Cabot Lowell, and desire to put on record the testimony of their appreciation of her life and character. She was among the earliest friends of the Home, and during the whole of its existence until now has proved a valuable and constant helper. We cherish her memory with personal affection as we recall the serene beauty of her spirit and her unostentatious charity. Through a long and useful life she has given an illustration of the rare graces and noble spirit of the Christian, and to an unusual extent followed the footsteps of Him who went about doing good.

In Memoriam.

The Managers of the Roxbury Home for Children and Aged Women desire to put on record their appreciation of the character and services of the late Sarah Plimpton. For many years as a member of this Board she was unceasing in her efforts to aid the Home in various ways. Her quick and kindly feelings led her into sympathy for the inmates amid the burdens of age, and she lightened their lot by her thoughtful care and attention. As we recall what she was and what she did, we cherish her memory; and, while we feel our loss, we would extend our sympathy to her family, with the assurance that in their bereavement at the breaking of the sacred ties of affection they will find solace in the recollection of one who for so many years enriched her home, and threw over it the light and joy of tender love.

ARTICLE I.

VISITING COMMITTEE.

The visitors for the month shall visit the Home not less than once a week. It shall be their duty to see the inmates, inquire into their condition, and give such encouragement and advice as may be in their power or the circumstances of the case seem to require. The Committee shall have the general oversight of the Matron and the concerns of the family. They shall ascertain the needs of the Institution, and direct the purchase of such articles as may be required for its temporary welfare and comfort. They shall see that the Matron conforms to the rules as to her own conduct and that of the family, and they shall make a monthly report to the Managers of the Institution.

ARTICLE II.

MATRON.

The Matron, under direction of the Visiting Committee, shall have charge of the house. She shall in no case be absent during the night without permission from the Visiting Committee. She shall enforce the rules and regulations of the Managers, and carry out such others as may be prescribed by the Visiting Committee. She shall be present at meals, see that they are properly served, and that all the inmates who are in health are present, and that suitable food be prepared for the sick. She shall report to the Visiting Committee the names of all applicants and the date of application, and, if presents be made to the Institution, the names of the persons making them, and the character of the donation. She shall at all times maintain the respect due to her station, and by kindness, attention, and judicious treatment endeavor to gain the esteem and secure the comfort and happiness of all those under her care. If improper conduct is observed in any member of the family, she shall, after the first offence, report the same to the Visiting Committee. She will, under the direction of the Visiting Committee, have the direction of nurses, domestics, and all other employees in the building. It shall be her duty to see that neatness and good conduct prevail in every part of the establishment, and that all unnecessary fires and lights are extinguished by 9.30 P.M.

ARTICLE III.

ON ADMISSIONS.

SECTION 1. It shall be the duty of the Committee on Admissions to visit each applicant and inquire into her circumstances and character, and make a full report to the Board in writing in regard to those deemed by them proper persons for admission to the Home, always accompanied with a certificate from a physician of good standing that he has examined the applicant, and that she has no physical or mental infirmity that should preclude her admission. The Board shall, in all cases, decide upon the admission of candidates. It shall be the duty of the Committee on Admissions to keep a record, in which shall be entered the names of all applicants, their respective ages, places of birth and residence, by whom recommended, date of application, and such other information as may be of importance. No person shall be admitted as an inmate of the Home without a recommendation from this Committee.

SECT. 2. No person shall be admitted to the Home unless of American parentage, except by a majority of all the Managers present and voting at a regular meeting; and preference shall always be given to natives or residents of Roxbury.

SECT. 3. Persons under sixty-five years of age shall not be eligible. In the admission of all persons, they shall be received on probation of three months, at the expiration of which the Board of Managers shall act definitely on the case of each one so received; and, if not confirmed as permanent inmates, the admission fee, deducting three dollars per week, shall be returned.

SECT. 4. The Board of Managers may by vote admit inmates on such terms as the pecuniary condition of the corporation or the circumstances of any peculiar case may seem to demand. Until otherwise ordered, three hundred dollars shall be the fee for admission. Furniture and other articles brought into the house by or for permanent inmates must remain for the benefit of the Home.

SECT. 5. The Board of Managers have the right at any time to discharge and remove from the Home any inmate who has been guilty of disobedient or disorderly conduct, or who, in their judgment, has by her conduct rendered such action necessary for the best interests of the Institution, provided, however, that no vote of removal shall be passed, unless the intention to pass such vote shall have been inserted in the notice calling the meeting.

SECT. 6. Inmates who have property must secure the same to the corporation before admission; and, in case of money or other property coming into their possession after their admission, by inheritance, bequest, or otherwise, they must, if they continue in the Home, make the same over to the corporation upon the demand of the Board of Managers.

SECT. 7. Inmates will be required in all cases to comply with the Rules and Regulations of the Home, as provided by the Board of Managers.

ARTICLE IV.

INMATES.

SECTION 1. The inmates will be required at all times to treat the Matron and Visiting Committee with deference and respect. They will also endeavor, by quiet and gentle manners, to diffuse an air of cheerfulness and good feeling throughout the establishment; and, by acts of kindness and forbearance, to gain the esteem and promote the happiness and comfort of each other.

SECT. 2. Those who are able will be required to make their own beds and to keep their own rooms in order, neat and clean, and, under direction of the Matron, to assist those who are unable to do the same. They will also be expected to assist in domestic duties and in sewing, and generally to render all the services they can for the benefit of the Institution and the comfort of those inmates more helpless than themselves.

SECT. 3. No intoxicating drinks shall be used, except by order of the physician; and, in such cases, they must be administered by the Matron.

SECT. 4. All that is necessary for the comfort of the inmates of the Home will be provided from the funds of the Association. No inmate, therefore, will, on any account, be permitted to leave the Institution to solicit assistance or procure work, unless by special permission from the Visiting Committee.

SECT. 5. No inmate will be allowed to interfere with the Matron or to obstruct her in the discharge of her duties, but any one having cause of complaint must present the same to the Visiting Committee.

SECT. 6. If any inmate desires to visit her friends or to go off the premises at any time, permission must be obtained of the Matron, who, before granting the same, must ascertain where the person wishes to go and how long she proposes to be absent.

SECT. 7. All of the inmates who are able will take their meals at the regular table provided for them, and will also attend the Sunday service held for them in the parlor each Sunday afternoon.

ARTICLE V.

Visitors may be permitted any day in the week between the hours of 10 and 12 A.M. and 2 and 6 P.M., and on Sundays after 2 o'clock P.M.

ARTICLE VI.

These Rules and Regulations may be altered, amended, or abrogated, and others prescribed at any regular meeting of the Board of Managers; and, to insure harmony, strict attention should be paid to them.
